

BEGIN HOT WATER
DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel, like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate, which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast.—

WORLD WANTS WORK WONDERS

CAMP WADSWORTH GAS DRILLSSPARTANBURG MEN FIGHT GAS ATTACKS AND ENJOY THEM

Artilleryman Runs Amuck on Moonshine, Kills Mule, Gets Six Years.

(Special From a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

SPARTANBURG, S. C., March 21.

Infantrymen going to the trenches now are subjected to gas attacks.
The gas used is not the deadly kind used by the Germans, but it is very penetrating and is quite painful to the eyes and nose. The men suffer no permanent effects, but one whiff of it makes them dread it for evermore. The battalions now occupy the trenches for seventy-two hours and the last few battalions have been subjected to the gas attacks almost every hour and sometimes oftener. It is strenuous work, but the men do not seem to mind it. They go into the trenches with gas masks slung

"OVER HERE." by Walt McDougall around their waists and it does not take many seconds to get the masks adjusted after the alarm is sounded.

Misinterpretation of orders was the plot of Capt. Stanley W. Pierce, 106th Infantry, when placed on trial before a court martial on the charge of failure to obey the orders of a superior officer.

Lieut. Col. John R. Tuck, commanding the regiment in the absence of Col. Frank H. Norton, who is attending an officers' school at San Antonio, was the complainant and sole witness. Col. Tuck testified that he had told Capt. Pierce, as officer of the day, to personally inspect the food served the prisoners in the regimental guard house, and that Capt. Pierce had failed to do so.

Capt. Pierce in his defense testified that he had not understood that the order meant that he was to personally inspect the food served the prisoners, but that he told the guard commander, Lieut. Samuel Davies, to inspect it. Lieut. Davies testified to the same effect. The finding of the court will not be made public until after it has been approved by Major Gen. O'Hylan, the Division Commander.

While on duty with his regiment at the largest range at Hogback Mountain, Wagner James A. Payton, 105th Field Artillery, filled up on moonshine liquor and proceeded to shoot a part of the surrounding landscape a bright vermillion. He visited the homes of some mountaineers and chased the women folk field, stole two pocketbooks and then returned to camp and shot an army mule, inflicting a wound from which the animal died. He was tried by a court martial and convicted and sentenced to six years of hard labor and to forfeit two-thirds of his pay remaining after paying his allotments for dependent relatives.

Major Gen. O'Hylan in approving the sentence said: "This soldier violated the hospitality of the people who have been generous and friendly in their relations with our soldiers.
Drunkenness does not excuse such acts, which have reflected great discredit upon the organization to which this soldier belongs and to the division as a whole. It is trusted that this sentence will constitute a warning to soldiers of this division who may be tempted to follow the lead of this man. The good name of the thousands of soldiers of this division who hold themselves in restraint at all times demands the summary punishment of the few who would reflect discredit upon them."

Major William R. Wright, commanding the 105th Machine Gun Battalion, formerly Squadron A, New York Cavalry, has been transferred to the Inspector General's office at Washington and left last night for his new post of duty. His transfer creates a vacancy which will be filled upon nomination of Major Gen.
O'Hylan, and there is not the slightest intimation as to who will be selected for the place.

Brig. Gen. James W. Lester has been granted leave of absence for ten days and left last night for his home in New York.

Members of Company A, 106th Machine Gun Battalion, last night gave a "so long party" to Capt.
Harry H. Spencer, recently transferred to the 105th Infantry, and gave him a handsome gold watch as a token of their esteem.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION FOR ARMY DRAFT MEN

More Than a Third of a Million Skilled Workers Needed for Modern Warfare.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The requirements of the branches of the new National Army for specialists has far exceeded expectations. No less than 300,000 men skilled in the technical arts are wanted, but the recruitment probably will be trimmed down to more moderate proportions.

It is recognized, however, that under the changed conditions of warfare the demands for men trained in the scientific branches will increase.
To meet the situation the War Department is planning to devise and send men in groups of 400 to 600 from their units to be sent to technical schools.

No advance information is available as to the date when another quota of drafted men will be called to the colors. It is expected that the announcement of the new apportionment will be withheld pending the enactment of legislation by Congress.
The necessity for keeping the men moving to the camps is so great that they will be called in service from time to time to fill up the vacancies or take the place of detachments sent abroad without waiting for legislation.

WILSON SENDS WREATH FOR TUSCANIA VICTIMS

WASHINGTON, March 21.—President Wilson has called Instructions to Ambassador Page at London to place a wreath in his name and in the name of the United States government on the graves of the heroes who went down on the Tuscania. The Tuscania victims rest on the bleak coast of Islay, off Scotland, quite alone. To them the President wanted to bring the mark of the country's devotion and sympathy.
Mr. Wilson also is considering taking Congress to erect a monument on the spot where the Tuscania victims are buried and making provision for the Worsted Knitting Yarn of Highest Quality

THE Patriotic Yarn Association was organized to supply the women of this country with the best worsted knitting yarn in the market at the lowest possible cost, allowing only for the expense of distribution, with the understanding that they will make up garments for men in the service of the United States and her Allies.
We desire to reach the individual knitter direct, that she may be unrestricted in the disposition of her finished garment, provided only that she knit solely for the above-mentioned cause and give her written word of honor to that effect. We also gladly help out small organizations of recognized reputation working for patriotic purposes.

We will take care of requests for yarn in the order in which they are received, and advise that you act promptly to avoid disappointment. The supply is limited.
